The God Of Carnage Yasmina

God of Carnage is a play by Yasmina Reza and was first published in 2008. It is about two sets of parents, one of whose child has hurt the other at a public park. They agree to meet to discuss the matter in a civilized manner. However, as the evening goes on, the parents become increasingly childish, resulting in the evening devolving into chaos. Originally written in French, the play was a success. It has since been translated into English by translator Christopher Hampton, and has enjoyed equa

God of Carnage - Wikipedia

Yasmina Reza's short play "The God of Carnage" is a fascinating, character-driven piece sprinkled with elements of absurdity. In many ways it is akin to Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," only the fighting between the characters in "Carnage" isn't as pointed as it is in "Woolf," but rather like that of a child who flails trying desperately to land a hit.

Winner of the 2009 Tony Award for Best Play, God of Carnage relates an evening in the lives of two couples, residents of a tony Brooklyn neighborhood, who meet to discuss a playground incident. Alan and Annette's son hit Michael and Veronica's son in the face with a stick, resulting in two broken teeth. The four of them agree to discuss the incident civilly, but, as the night wears on and drinks are imbibed, the polite veneer breaks down.
