Winds of Autumn is the second book in the Season of the Heart series by Janette Oke. Now when I borrowed the rest of the books from this series (having already read the first, which I rated 3.5 stars out of 5) I did it for the sake of finishing the series (I like finishing my series if I can), not particularly because I enjoyed the first book.

"Autumn Winds" is the second book in the "Seasons of the Heart" series from author Charlotte Hubbard. In the picturesque Amish community of Willow Ridge, Missouri, widowed Miriam Lantz operates the Sweet Seasons Bakery Cafe, where the food is seasoned with heaping helpings of love and faith.

Autumn Winds (Seasons of the Heart #2) by Charlotte Hubbard

The subtle Coming-of-Age nuance in the film is made all the more symbolic by setting the action in the Autumn season. Autumn embodies an evolution from youth to a more mature part of life and its cold winds, blowing mercilessly, wrench the leaves from the trees — leaving them barren.

The Autumn Wind is a pirate Blustering in from sea, With a rollicking song, he sweeps along, Swaggering boisterously. His face is weather beaten. He wears a hooded sash, With a silver hat about his head, And a bristling black mustache. He growls as he storms the country, A villain big and bold. And the trees all shake and quiver and quake,
